THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

We regret that we are unable, on account of its great length, to give entire, the masterly message of President Cleveland. We therefore do the next best thing, give all that part that relates to the question of Tariff Reform. This contains the gist of the message, the remainder treats of the different State departments, our relations with other powers, the Sackwell matter, &c., while important, would scarcely be read by one in a hundred, but what we publish should be read by all, it is meat to feed on, food for thought, an aid to the understanding of a vital subject, that is presented with a masterly hand, one that deserves and must receive attention not only of the people, but Senators and Statesmen. The President has been a National President, and when he says "The Constitution must be our guide," he but exhibits to the people the compass by which he has directed his course. If this noble defence of this great instrument could be made the guide of him who will succeed him, it would be well for all, for as Mr. Cleveland says, "It will not mislead us," it will give equal justice to all. It will preserve the rights of States, it will so equalize the tariff that it will be an exaction from the people only for the economical administration of the Government. It would not suffer the Government to protect the rich, and leave the poor to their protecting care, nor foster communism of combined wealth. "There are hateful things" against the spirit of the constitution, and will ultimately stifle the voice of the people. The late election has shown the beginning of this mighty power of wealth, and if its force is allowed full sway, the people will feel keenly its grinding power, and the communism of those oppressed by poverty, the toilers of the land, will be compelled to assert their rights. What then will be the result if we continue to depart from the paths of the constitution. Will this be the land of free speech, or of free institutions.

The New York World has done a good thing in quietly finding out from the negroes in the several Southern States their condition. From nearly every State it has received answers which put to rest the assertions that they are not allowed to vote, that they are bulldozed or intimidated, &c., or that there is not in the South a free election.

Four of these answers come from intelligent colored men in North Carolina. One from James H. Jones, a prominent and intelligent colored republican in Raleigh. There are three from Durham, where the scamp Jordan, who had to leave for his bad counciland his incendiary language to negroes, reported at the North the vilest lies in regard to the election. Such testimony coming from the centre of the so-called hot-bed of intimidation is worth a good deal. If, however, the knowledge had got abroad that the World was seeking such information, we have no doubt that for political effect the story would have been different—but as it was done quietly, the truth comes out, and the people at the North who believe that the negroes are cheated out of their votes have an opportunity to change their minds. They see that the sins laid at our doors, are no worse or half so bad as those practiced by their own people in the late election. While we do not say we are in every particular sinless, we do not believe that in the late election that we acted one fourth as bad as the republicans at the North. They can give us two in the game and then win—besides, all or nearly all the bulldozing and intimidation in the South was practiced by negroes. If they would allow each other to vote and act as they pleased, the democratic vote would have been much larger, a few do dare, but very few, the majority fear their race, fear that the conjurer will play havoc with their health or their effects.

There is no truth in the charge that the white people in North Carolina do not give the negroes equal rights under the law, they have been rather over particular in this respect, and in our judgment have done more than they were required. They have striven hard to give them good schools, and in so doing have robbed themselves, have given asylums for their insane, the deaf, the dumb and blind, and the wages with which the masses are supported are equal to those received by whites. What more in Heaven's name could a people want more than this, unless it be the land we have. If they be discontented with their lot, let them look upwards to Him, who has for some wise purpose placed them where they are, and beseech Him to lead them to the promised land. The World says:

"Neither the decent white republicans nor the honest negroes of the South want a restoration of the disgraceful carpet-bag governments which that party imposed on the Southern States during the heyday of its power. 'Take any shape but that,' they say of Gen. Harrison's policy. This is a tardy but telltale vindication of the Democratic 'home rule' which has made the South, peaceful, prosperous and happy. The work of the last ten years cannot be undone, whatever may happen."

The Democratic veterans, member of the Grand Army of the Republic in Indiana, have resolved to abandon the order, it is a national move, it is a little strange that they have remained in it so long. They have been aiding an association that has been republican in all its acts. It is time to leave, no good self-respecting Democrat ought to remain in such an organization. It was never intended as a party organization, but the republicans could not keep in line.

THE EFFECT OF TOBACCO SMOKE.

Dr. Vincenzo Tassarini at the University of Piza has recently been experimenting with tobacco smoke to ascertain its effect on the disease causing micro-organisms. His experiments were applied to the germs of Asiatic cholera, pneumonia and other diseases, and he finds that tobacco smoke has the power of arresting the deadly work of microbes in these diseases. The New York Medical Record in describing the experiments says:

"The results show that tobacco smoke has the effect of preventing the development of some micro-organisms entirely and of retarding that of others. The Virginia cigar seems to have the most powerful effect, while cigarette smoking had only a retarding influence and did not entirely check the growth of any form.

"There has long been a vague belief that tobacco smoking lessened to some extent the danger of infection when one is exposed, and Dr Tassarini's experiments give some support to this opinion, so far as the microbes which infect the mouth and respiratory passages are concered."

The Republicans are having little trouble in disposing of the Senate Tariff bill. There is no discussion of the iniquitous measure. It looks as if the democratic senators had given up, and did not care to bother themselves—consequently the bill is expected to pass the Senate and be sent to the House before Christmas. It will meet its fate there, for Mills, Carlisle and democrats of like stamp will give it a quietus. The World says:

"The Democrats of the Senate ought to be able to muster at least one representative who can expose and denounce the anomalous injustice of the Republican tariff bill. Never before in any Government has it been proposed to reduce superfluous revenues by increasing the taxes on the necessaries of the people. This is what the Republican bill does in nine of its schedules. Has defeat made the Democratic Senators dumb on the paramount issue between the parties?"

The bribing and corruption at the North in the late election was the most disgraceful ever known. In Elmira, N. Y., it is charged that 200 free men out of a total poll of 800 votes sold themselves to the highest bidder. In Indiana over a thousand complaints have been filed in the district attorney's office for bribery, yet they claim that the South is the only place where a fair election is not held.

The newly elected Governor of Indiana, Gen. Hovey, a republican, will in his message advocate a reform in the election law, he says:

"I would disfranchise forever, every man who is concerned in giving or receiving a bribe, and in addition to disfranchisement I should send to the penitentiary every man convicted of making a second attempt at bribery or corruption."

The duty now devolves upon President Cleveland of appointing a Federal Judge to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Judge Thomas Settle, but the Republican Senate will deviate far from its beaten path if it confirms the appointment. If we had any hopes that a democrat would be confirmed, it would afford us great pleasure, as it would the citizens of this town, to do our all for Judge James C. MacRae, whose legal attainments and christian character, qualifies him in the highest sense for the position, but we cannot believe that the appointment will be confirmed until after the fourth of March, and then only republicans need apply.

A WIDE-AWAKE PLACE.—We have not seen the city of Charlotte in many years, and our knowledge of it is only that gathered from its enterprising daily, which shows beyond question that its eltizens are among the most energetic, wide-awake, public spirited set of people in the State. They have built more cotton factories and added more to their industries than any other town, and are ever projecting to build up their town; now they propose to have an Exposition of the Carolinas on 27th Nov. 1889. They are made of the right stuff, men worthy to represent Mecklenburg and its declaration.

The Democrats of Edgecombe refused to go on Republicans bond, the result, only one, the Register of Deeds, a colored man, was sworn in, the vacant offices were promptly filled by Democrats. In Greene county the Republican sheriff failed to give his bond, and a Democrat was elected. The Democrats are right in not aiding Republicans to fill the offices; they do all in their power before the election to keep them out, and they should lend no aid to them afterwards. In Craven the Democrats were a little more generous and extended the time.

At the meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, held last week, Mr. P. M. Wilson was elected Agent of Immigration to aid Mr. Patrick. The State is doing a good work in this line, and Mr. Patrick's powers are taxed beyond his ability, and he requested the appointment of Mr. Wilson. There could not be a better appointment. Mr. Wilson takes great pleasure in working for the State, and he will put new life into it. It is a capital appointment.

Col. Carle A. Woodruff, U. S. A., who was present at the encampment at Wrightsville last summer, in his report to the Adjutant General's department at Raleigh, among many other pleasant things says:

"I do not believe there is to be found in the United States a better set of men, better armed and equipped than the North Carolina State Guard."

THE CHOICE OF THE PEOPLE.—The Democratic Presidential vote in the country was nearly 100,000 majority, still Cleveland was not elected. Harrison is not the choice of the people, but States.

The Wilmington Star is right when it says that it strongly favors a tax-paying qualification. No tax receipt no vote. It is an outrage that a negro that pays not one cent of tax should have a hand in taxing any man who does not bear his part of the public burden.

Birmingham Sheriff Resists a Mob.

[Charlotte Chronicle.]

Last Tuesday the body of a little girl was found in East Lake near Birmingham, Ala. The fact was established that she had been murdered, and Wednesday the body was identified as that of May Hawes, daughter of R. R. Hawes, a railroad engineer. Circumstances pointed to the girl's father as her murderer. He was married in Columbus, Miss., Wednesday evening, though supposed to have a wife in Birmingham. On his arrival in Birmingham with his bride that night he was arrested, charged with the murder. Then it was learned that he had never been divorced from his first wife, and that she had been missing since Saturday a week ago, as well as the youngest child. Search for the woman's body commenced and soon additional circumstantial evidence against Hawes was secured. Saturday evening the body of the ex-wife was found in the lake weighted down with iron. This caused intense excitement throughout the city, and that night 50 or more officers were placed around the jail armed with Winchester rifles, anticipating a possible attempt to lynch Hawes. About 11 o'clock Saturday night two or three thousand men gathered in the vicinity of the jail, making threats. They were without organization or leaders, and after much parleying with the mayor and others, who tried to get them to go away, the crowd finally reached the end of a narrow alleyway leading to the jail door. Then the officers warned them to stand back or they would be fired upon. After repeated warnings they would not turn back, and Sheriff Smith ordered the officers to fire. One volley was fired and 23 men fell killed or wounded. Three men were instantly killed, six have since died and ten others are badly wounded. The mob then hurriedly dispersed, vowing vengeance. State troops were ordered there at once and nine companies have already arrived. There was intense feeling all Sunday and yesterday, but no outbreak of any kind, and none is feared. The city at midnight was very quiet.

The Demand for the Release of the Haytien Republic.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 7.—Action has been taken by Secretary Whitney which leaves no doubt as to the policy of the government in regard to the case of the American steamer 'Haytien Republic,' recently seized at Port au Prince, Hayti. The release of the vessel has been demanded through the proper diplomatic channels and if the demand is not complied with within a reasonable period of time, steps will be taken to enforce it. With this end in view Secretary Whitney yesterday sent telegraphic instructions to Rear Admiral Gherardi, commandant of the New York Navy Yard, to have the ships Richmond, Galena and Yantic prepared for sea as rapidly as possible. It was expected that these vessels would in the ordinary progress of the work upon them be completed in about two weeks. The idea now is to have them ready so that they can sail direct for Hayti early next week. Orders have also been issued for Rear Admiral Luce, commanding the North Atlantic Station, to transfer his flag from the Galena to the Richmond and to use that vessel as the flagship of the expedition.

University of North Carolina.

The Faculty of the University offers to the teachers of the State a course of three months free instruction specially adapted to their need.

The programme beginning with "The Science and Art of Teaching" by President Battle is an attractive one.

There is no charge for tuition—the only fee being $5.00, which the Act of Assembly requires and which entitles to matriculation to room rent, servant's hire, &c.

Classes will be organized in any of the courses on application from five teachers. No extrance nor other examinations will be required.

The courses will last three months.

Board can be secured at from $8 to $12 per month.

For particulars, address Kemp P. Battle, President.

STATE NEWS.

There are 95 children in the Baptist Orphanage at Thomasville.

The next session of the North Carolina Annual Conference will convene in Greensboro.

Asheville is to have a $100,000 cotton factory, owned by home and foreign capitalists.

The government's payments on account of pensions alone last month amounted to twenty-two million dollars.

An Alliance paper is to be started in Charlotte in a week or two by Messrs. Jerome Dowd and R. B. Hunter.

The Auditor is busy sending out the pension warrants. There are 3,706 on the list. Of that number there are 2,625 widows and 1,081 soldiers.

The Newton Enterprise says it understands that a colored lady will be an applicant for the Newton postoffice and that she has out a petition.

Secretary Whitney again this year presented every employee in the Navy Department with a Thanksgiving turkey. It took more than 400 to go around.

The Times reports that a Concord man complained to his butcher that the last piece of steak sent him was so tough that his mother could not chew the gravy.

The Asheville Citizen says that Rev. Dr. Buxton has notified the vestry of Trinity Church, of that city that he will soon retire from the Rectorship of that church.

The Winston Sentinel says:—Judge Avery's place on the Superior Court bench will be filled either by Col. Folk, of Caldwell, or Jno. Gray Bynum, of Burke.

After a full, fair and impartial investigation, the N. C. Conference has honorably acquitted the Rev J. B. Bobbitt of the charges that were preferred against him.

Gov. Scales has appointed Col. R. F. Armfield Judge of the Eighth district of North Carolina, vice Judge W. A. Montgomery, who has tendered his resignation.

The Atlantic Coast Line is soon to increase its rolling stock, by the addition of three hundred new freight cars, which are now building for it. This shows prosperity.

There were 23 candidates for admission as ministers at the present session of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist E. Church, at New Berne.—Wilmington Star.

The Alamance Gleaner says that a canning factory started near Graham last summer on a small scale as an experiment, has proved a great success. About three thousand cans of fruit were put up.

The Wilmington Review says: We regret to learn that Rev. T. W. Guthrie has been left very ill at Newbern and that his sickness is of such a nature that his wife had to be telegraphed for. She is now at his bedside.

The morning freight on the C. F. & Y. V. road for Bennettsville left Fayetteville Monday morning with 42 box cars in the train. Pretty good train that, and it took two engines to pull it out of town.—Jonesboro Leader.

A farmer in Wilson county, Texas, experimented last season by planting cotton in rows of different widths. Most of it was planted the usual width, but he planted five acres with the rows eight feet apart, and the latter did not cease growing the entire year, the cotton finally meeting in the middle. He says the cotton planted in rows eight feet apart made twice as much to the acre as that planted the usual width.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

A WEAK BACK.

Not one man in five can boast of a strong back. There are many indiscretions producing this complaint, and it may be relieved by B. B. B., as witness the following:

BALTIMORE, May 23, 1887.

For five years I have been suffering with a weak back from result of an injury received, attended by rheumatism. I had to give up my regular business and take the position of night watchman. I have derived great relief and benefit by using "Botanic Blood Balm," and have regained my strength sufficiently to resume my regular work. I think Botanic Blood Balm has given me permanent relief. I am now able to perform work that I have not had strength to do for five years, and cheerfully indorse B. B. B., which has proven to be the only medicine that would give me relief. OLIVER SECOR,

A Cash Store.

With full confidence in the ultimate success of the cash system in thrifty communities, and hoping for the future prosperity of Fayetteville, with this issue we invite the public and our friends generally both in and out of Fayetteville to give us a call.

We are determined to give better bargains for cash than we can give under the credit system and with the expense of running a free delivery.

Knowing if these expenses are curtailed, Goods can be sold over the counter for cash, to better advantage to customer and merchant.

With a supply in store and to arrive sufficient for the demand, all are invited.

We invite country merchants to see our

A. J. PEMBERTON & Co.—Christmas and New Year Greeting.

Fayetteville can boast of as good hotels, if not the best in the State.

Christmas goods are attracting the people, and little folks are wondering what Santa Claus will bring them.

Mr. Garrason presented us with a sample of his fine 5 cent cigar, The Affidavit. We make our affidavit that it is good.

The young gentlemen and ladies of this place are having fine sport fox hunting. Saturday they started three, and caught two.

The C. F. & Y. V. have contracted with Mr. —— to build the piers for the bridge across the Cape Fear at this place. The work will commence about the first of Jan'y. The piers will be built of Mount Airy granite, of which the company has an abundant supply.

Saturday was a busy day, it looked as if the country people had all come in, the back yards were crowded with carts, and the stores and sidewalks were filled with people. Quite a large number, as usual, came up on the C. F. & Y. V. from South Carolina, Robeson, &c. It ought to have been, and we believe it was, a big day for trade.

It looks as if the tide of pleasure and health seekers from the frozen North has already set in. We notice on the register of the Hotel LaFayette a goodly number of names from the Northern cities. Among them Mr. D. Lockwood and J. P. Treadwell, of Norwalk, Conn., who came with a fine lot of dogs of choice breeding; also Mr. Geo. R. Stearns, of Pawtucket, R. I., recently of Montreal, and a member of the Hunting Club of that city.

There is good shooting around here and we hope our visitors may find that they have come to the right place. If they can't find birds give them a chance at fox hunting.

DIED.—Our community was sadly grieved on Wednesday night last at the announcement of the death of Miss Fannie J. Dye, eldest daughter of Mr. M. E. Dye, from consumption. She was just upon the threshold of young womanhood, and by her lovely disposition and noble character had won a host of admiring friends. Though conscious for months of approaching death, no cloud of sorrow veiled her bright disposition and cheerful manners, but was always a cheer and blessing to to those who ministered to her, and to all alike, she manifested the same beauteous grace of feminine lovliness. To her sorrowing family and friends, we tender our sincerest and most heartfelt sympathies, and rejoice with them, that in this sad hour of trial and suffering that they have the comforting consolation of a blessed hope in a brighter and better life.

OFF ON A HUNT.—The private car of the C. F. & Y. V. handsomely equipped and provisioned by Col. K. M. Murchison of New York, left here Tuesday morning with a party consisting of Col. K. M. Murchison, Messrs. C. A. Brown, of Troy, N. Y., D. M. Williams and J. W. Murchison of Wilmington, and Messrs. R. W. Bidgood and E. L. Pemberton of this place. The party will try the fields of Chatham and Moore and perhaps the country further west. There are some capitol shots among them, and if we believe the owners, they have the finest dogs in the State. Birds are plenty, and if the weather permits, they will have fine sport.

THE PINE TREE AGAIN.—We were in error last week in regard to the object of Mr. J. B. Underwood's still. He has recently obtained a patent for the purpose of utilizing the waste products from the common rosin, &c., and has built this distillery to make rosin oil, and a superior article of common varnish. We have seen some of his tests, and we are sure he has hit upon a good thing, one that if pushed to its fullest extent, will give the pine tree another boom, and at the same time, while benefitting the public, be money in the pocket of the patentee.

WHAT'S IN A NAME.—An old gentleman, a stranger, coming into the Scotch settlement met one of the old clan who likes a little fun, and after making many inquiries, was asked if he knew certain Scotch people, Neill McNeill, Dougald McDougald, Daniel McDaniel and Gugan McGugan and others of like family names, thinking he was being imposed upon, he angrily retorted as he turned on his heel, no, by ——, but I know, Fool McFool.

STATE GUARD—ELECTION OF FIELD OFFICERS.—The meeting of the officers of the 2nd Regiment was held in Fayetteville Dec. 6th, and called to order by Maj. W. F. Campbell, who briefly stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of electing Field Officers for the 2nd Regiment, and to coinsider other matters of interest to the State Guard. The roll of officers was called, and it was found that every company was represented except the Rocky Mount Light Infantry. The chair announced that the meeting was ready for business, and that nominations were in order. Col. W. C. Jones was nominated and unanimously elected Colonel of the 2nd Regiment for the third time. Lieut. Colonel E. F. McRae declined a re-election, and Maj. W. S. Cook was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy, and Lieut. Jno. A. Stevens, of Clinton, was elected Major.

The following resolution was offered and adopted: That Maj. Campbell be requested to telegraph Col. Jones, authorizing him to tender the services of the 2nd Regiment to Gov. elect Fowle, at his auguration.

Capt. Broadfoot offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted: That the officers of the 2nd Regiment pledge themselves to use every effort to induce the next legislature to make such an appropriation for the State Guard as will give them an annual encampment. And that the recent encampment at Wrightsville demonstrates the fact that it possesses so many advantages over any other place in North Carolina for a military camp, that it would be very greatly to the interest of the Guard if the legislature would take some steps looking to making Wrightsville a permanent place of encampment for the State Guard.

The election for field officers for the First Regiment, was held at Tarboro. J. W. Cotton, of Tarboro, was re elected Colonel, D. N. Bogart, of Washington, Lieut. Colonel, and E. J. Harrell, of Raleigh, Major.

The Third Regiment held its election at Greensboro. Col. Jas. D. Glenn, of Greensboro, was re-elected Colonel, E. J. Parrish, of Durham, was elected Lieut. Colonel and R. M. Ellington, of Reidsville, was re-elected Major.

Much interest is taken in the appointment of the Adjutant General. General Johnston Jones, who has filled the position for many years, Col. Cotton, of the First Regiment, and Col. Glenn, of the Third, all aspire to the position, but not the least, and we hope with a good chance of success, is our own townsman, W. F. Campbell, Major Commanding the Fayetteville Independent Company. There could be no better appointment; he is an old soldiers who has seen service, who is up in military tactics, and will take pride in making the command an honor to the State as he has the old Independent Co., the continued admiration not only of the people of Fayetteville, but of those under whose eye the command may appear. He is a good officer, in every way fitted for the position, and although his becoming modesty prevents his making a fight for the office, believing as he does that the office should seek the man, not man the office, still if the Governor should appoint him he would place the honors on one whom they would well become, and honor a command that has ever proved ready to serve its country.

CANTATA.—The citizens of Fayetteville are promised a rare treat on Friday night, Dec. 21st, when the beautiful and charming cantata, Santa Claus Home, or the Christmas Excursion will be presented by the ladies and children of the Baptist Sunday School. It is sufficient to say that Mr. Notvitzky has charge and direction of it, and that the proceeds are to be devoted to the benefit of the Baptist Church. While it will be an enjoyable affair, aided by the best musical talent, it will also give our people an opportunity of aiding a good cause, and we hope that it will receive the patronage and encouragement of our entire community.

THE PRESIDING ELDER.—The Methodist are to be congratulated upon the assignment of the Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, as presiding elder of this district. Mr. Bobbitt comes among a people who admire him for his earnestness and devotion to the cause of his church. He was stationed here in 1863 or '64, and while here gathered around him many warm friends who will be glad to welcome him. It is an appointment that meets with the hearty approval of those devoted to the church.

A BEAUTIFUL PICTURE.—On Thursday evening just after dark quite a number of persons were attracted by the close proximity of a star to the moon. At first it stood just above the dark part of the moon, and by degrees changed its position until at last it looked as if it were attached to the upper horn, it finally disappeared, eclipsed by the greater planet. It was a small star, we are not astronomer sufficient to designate it by name.

DEATH OF COL. R. R. BRIDGERS.—It is with unfeigned regret that we announce the death of Col. R. R. Bridgers, President of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad. He died at Columbia, S. C., on Monday. Col. Bridgers was one of the most distinguished railroad men in the State, and his sudden demise is a sad loss.

LIST OF PENSION LETTERS AT THE POST OFFICE.—Edward Andrews, Sally Autry, E. A. Carrall, Zilpha Calcutt, Mary C. Cheek, M. B. Currie, Flora Ellis, Flora A. Graham, Martha A. Green, Jennett Hargrave, Nancy Kelly, Barbora Porter, Catharine M. Simms, William McLamb.

FARMERS ATTENTION.—Don't forget that the annual meeting of the Cumberland Agricultural Society will be held at the Town Hall on Tuesday December 18th, at which time an election will be held for officers for the next year.

ODD FELLOWS ADDRESS.—Odd Fellow's Hall was filled on Thursday night to hear the address of the Hon. G. M. Rose, P. G. By order of the Supreme Lodge of the United States memorial services were directed to be held by every lodge under its jurisdiction, to pay a tribute of respect to their departed brethren. The order here while complying with the mandate of their Supreme ruler, were fortunate in having no eulogies to make, no tears to shed over deceased brothers, and in consequence the address of Mr. Rose was confined to the history and objects of the order; it was over an hour in length, but he made it an interesting subject, showing its work to be a mission of charity and brotherly love; it was replete with historical facts, and here and there gems of beauty sparkled forth as the orator became enthused in reciting its holy deeds of love and comfort that it had bestowed upon the desolate widow and lonely orphan. The speakers fine address and appearance with his graceful manner and captivating easy flowing style, added much to the power and impressiveness of his theme. Mr. Rose showed that he was not only a graceful writer with mind well stored, but an orator, and the Odd Fellows of the State would enjoy (as did the entire audience on Thursday night) a treat that would be gratifying to every member of the order if he was prevailed upon to deliver this same address before their bodies, for it sets forth in a true and life like way its mission of love and mercy, and dispels from the doubter that mistrust that prevails in regard to secret orders.

THE CASH SYSTEM.—It is evident from the number of those who are adopting the cash system, that they intend to put their business on a more solid basis. No system is more hurtful or places more impediments in the way of progress than the credit system. It is pecuniary death to those who follow it; it is only a matter of time, for one by one the creditors will, and at last he who granted indulgencies is sure to follow. Farmers especially have seen and felt the evil of the system, and if there had been no credit given, they would have been forced to work less land and make their own supplies, and instead of being, as many are, sunk past redemption in poverty, they would have been an independent set. The farmer has always, until the present, been looked upon as leading the happiest and most independent life, he has been the envy of other classes, but credit with its alluring temptations has despoiled the picture. If now, all classes would join hands in this crusade against credit, while at first it might work its hardships, they would be comparatively of short duration, and prevent many from irretrievable ruin. It is better to endure temporary evils than evils that have no end—and for the good of all, it would be well for the system to be a universal one.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE ON THE C. F. & Y. V.—The C. F. & Y. V., to meet the change on the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line, have made a slight change in their time of arriving here. They now leave Bennettsville at 5.20; Maxton at 6.40 A. M., arrive at Fayetteville 8.25 A. M. for breakfast, arrive at Sanford at 10.50 A. M. in time to take the cars for Raleigh, arrive at Raleigh at 12.30 P. M., Greensboro 2.05 P. M. This change, although slight, will be of great advantage to the traveling public. The change went into effect on Monday the 10th.

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays parties can take the freight train that leaves here at 5.40 A. M., and arrive in Wilmington about one o'clock P. M., and by taking freight at 9 A. M. at Raleigh parties can reach Fayetteville at 4 P. M.

RESIGNATION.—Miss Nannie H. Shepherd has tendered her resignation to the Executive Committee of the Graded School. She is a young lady of sterling worth, and the impress of her character has been of marked value to the school. The executive committee, the teachers and the children, all part with her with many regrets, and the love and good wishes of each will follow her.

SORGHUM.—We learn that some of the sorghum exhibited at the fair, was not the real article, but really the juice from the Louisiana sugar cane, and we learn that the experiment of planting it on our river bottoms has proved success. The success attending it, will cause others to experiment with it this year.

Personals.

Mr. W. R. French, of Wilmington, was in town this week.

Rev. J. H. Hall, of Durham, is here on a visit to his friends.

Judge MacRae is here to spend the Christmas holidays.

We were glad to see Mr. A. M. Fairley, who has been quite sick, for the past month, in town last week.

Mr. R. W. Brooks, who has recently commenced to erect a planing mill at Red Springs was in town this week.

Maj. Hicks, who has the contract to grade this portion of the Wilmington extension, passed through here on Friday.

Mrs. C. R. Banks, left for Winston on Monday. She will be glad to see her friends at the Hotel Fountain in that city.

Alderman John Y. MacRae, of Raleigh, paid a short visit to his friends last week. He returned home Friday, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Jas. A. MacRae.

Maj. Roger P. Atkinson passed through here last week on his way to inspect the grading between this place and Wilmington. He reports that work is progressing finely and the weather much in their favor.

Of the 170 members of the next Legislature, only 12 served in the last, and there are only 19 lawyers, 11 in the Senate, 8 in the House.

A COMPRESS.—The very large amount of cotton received and transported through here [illegible] has put some our energetic merchants to thinking that a compress will pay, and a movement will be made to [illegible] a compress by next fall. That is the way, keep moving, show that you are alive, and our town will boom.

Rev. D. C. Kelly, of Wilmington, will deliver a lecture to-night at half past seven o'clock, in the Methodist Sunday School Chapel, in the interest of the Seamen at Jacksonville, Fla. Mr. Kelly was formerly in charge of the Seaman's Chapel in Wilmington.

THE MESSAGE.

THAT PORTION WHICH RELATES TO TARIFF REFORM.

To The Congress of the United States:

As you assemble for the discharge of the duties you have assumed, as the representatives of a free and generous people, your meeting is marked by an interesting and impressive incident. With the expiration of the present session of the Congress, the first century of our constitutional existence as a nation will be complete.

Our survival for one hundred years is not sufficient to assure us that we no longer have dangers to fear in the maintenance, with all its promised blessings, of a government founded upon the freedom of the people. The time rather admonishes us to soberly inquire whether in the past we have always closely kept in the course of safety, and whether we have before us a way, plain and clear, which leads to happiness and perpetuity.

When the experiment of our government was undertaken, the chart adopted for our guidance was the Constitution. Departure from the lines there laid down is failure. It is only by a strict adherence to the direction they indicate, and by restraint within the limitations they fix, that we can furnish proof to the world of the fitness of the American people for self government.

The equal and exact justice of which we boast as the underlying principle of our institutions should not be confined to the relations of our citizens to each other. The Government itself is under bond to the American people that in the exercise of its functions and powers it will deal with the body of citizens in a manner scrupulously honest and fair and absolutely just. It has agreed that American citizenship shall be the only credentials necessary to justify the claim of equality before the law, and that no condition in life shall give rise to discrimination in the treatment of the people by their Government.

The citizen of our Republic in its early days rigidly insisted upon free compliance with the letter of this bond, and saw stretching out before him a clear field for individual endeavor. His tribute to the support of his government was measured by the cost of its economical maintenance, and he was secure in the enjoyment of the remaining recompense of his steady and contented toil. In those days the frugality of the people was stamped upon their Government, and was enforced by the free, thoughtful and intelligent suffrage of the citizen. Combinations, monopolies, and aggregations of capital, were either avoided or sternly regulated and restrained. The pomp and glitter of governments less free, offered no temptation and presented no delusion to the plain people who, side by side, in friendly competition wrought for the ennoblement and dignity of man, for the solution of the problem of free government and for the achievement of the grand destiny awaiting the land which God had given them. A century has passed. Our cities are the abiding places of wealth and luxury; our manufactures yield fortunes never dreamed by the fathers of the republic. Our business men are madly striving in the race for riches, and immense aggregations of capital outrun the imagination, in the magnitude of their undertakings in the eager chase for easily acquired wealth.

We discover that the fortunes realized by our manufacturers are no longer solely the reward of sturdy industry and enlightened foresight, but that they result from the discriminating favor of the government, and are largely built upon undue exactions from the masses of our people. The gulf between employers and the employed is constantly widening, and classes are rapidly forming. One comprising the very rich and powerful, while in another are found the toiling poor.

As we view the achievements of aggregated capital we discover the existence of trusts, combinations and monopolies, while the citizen is struggling far in the rear, or is trampled to death beneath an iron heel. Corporations, which should be the carefully restrained creatures of the law, and the servants of the people, are fast becoming the people's masters. Still congratulating ourselves upon the wealth and prosperity of our country, and complacently contemplating every incident of change inseparable from these conditions it is our duty as patriotic citizens to inquire at the present stage of our progress, how the bond of government made with the people has been kept and performed. Instead of limiting the tribute drawn from our citizens to the necessities of its economical administration, the Government persists in exacting from the substance of the people, millions which are unapplied and useless, lie dormant in its treasury. This flagrant injustice and this breach of faith and obligation, add to extortion the danger attending the diversion of the currency of the country from the legitimate channels of business.

Under the same laws by which these results are produced the Government permits many millions more to be added to the cost of the living of our people to be taken from our consumers, which unreasonably swells the profits of a small but powerful minority. The people must still be taxed for the support of the Government under the operation of tariff laws. But to the extent that the mass of our citizens are inordinately burdened beyond any useful public purpose and for the benefit of a favored few, the government, under pretext of an exercise of its taxing power, enters gratuitously into partnership with these favorites, to their advantage, and to the injury of a vast majority of our people. This is not equality before the law. The existing situation is injurious to the health of our entire body politic. It stifles in these for whose benefit it is permitted, all patriotic love of country and substitutes in its place selfish greed and grasping avarice.

The grievances of those not included within the circle of those beneficiaries when fully realized, will surely arouse irritation and discontent. Our farmers, long suffering and patient struggling in the race of life, with the hardest and most unremitting toil, will not fail to see, in spite of misrepresentations and misleading fallacies, that they are obliged to accept such prices for their products as are fixed in foreign markets, where they compete with the farmers of the world; that their lands are declining in value while their debts increase; and that without compensating favor they are forced, by the action of the Government, to pay for the benefit of others, such enhanced prices for the things they need, that the scanty returns of their labor fail to furnish their support or leave no margin for accumulation.

Devotion to American citizenship for its own sake, and for what it should accomplish as a motive to our nation's advancement, and the happiness of all our people, is displaced by the assumption that the government, instead of being the embodiment of equality, is but an instrumentality through which especial individual advantages are to be gained. The arrogance of this assumption is unconcealed. It appears in the sordid disregard of all but personal interest in the refusal to abate, for the benefit of others, one iota of selfish disadvantage, and in combinations to perpetuate such disadvantages through efforts to control legislation and improperly influence the suffrages of the people.

Our workingmen enfranchised from all deductions and no longer frightened by the cry that their wages are endangered by a just revision of our tariff laws will reasonably demand through such revision steadier employment, cheaper means of living in their homes, freedom for themselves and their children from the doom of perpetual servitude and an open door to their advancement beyond the limit of a laboring class. Others of our citizens whose comforts and expenditures are measured by moderate salaries and fixed incomes will insist upon the fairness and justice of cheapening the cost of necessaries for themselves and their families.

When, to the selfishness of the beneficiaries of unjust discrimination under our laws, there shall be added the discontent of those who suffer from such discrimination, we will realize the fact that the beneficient purposes of our Government dependent upon the patriotism and contentment of our people are endangered.

Communism is a hateful thing and a menace to peace and organized government. But the communism of combined wealth and capital, the outgrowth of overweening cupidity and selfishness which insidiously undermines the injustice and integrity of free institutions, is not less dangerous than the communism of oppressed poverty and toil, which, exasperated by justice and discontent attacks with wild disorder the citadel of rule upon which should rest in well distributed ownership, the numberless homes of enlightened equal and prominent citizens. They come to rational session with the warning example in our eye of inquities in land proprietorship which other countries have permitted and still suffer.

He mocks the people who proposes that the government shall protect the rich, and that they in turn will care for the laboring poor. Any intermediary between the people and their government, or the delegation of the care and protection the government owes to the humblest citizen in the land, makes the boast of free institutions a glittering delusion, and the pretended boon of American citizenship a shameless imposition.

A just and sensible revision of our tariff laws should be made for the relief of those of our countrymen who suffer under present conditions. Such a revision should receive the support of all who love that justice and equality due to American citizenship; of all who realize that in this justice and equality our Government finds its strength and its power to protect the citizen and his property of all who believe that the contentented competence and comfort of the many, accord better with the spirit of our institutions than colossal fortunes unfairly gathered in the hands of a few. Of all who appreciate that forbearance and fraternity among our people, which recognize the value of every American interest as the surest guarantee of our national progress. And of all who desire to see the products of American skill and ingenuity in every market of the world, with a resulting restoration of American commerce.

The necessity of the reduction of our revenue is so apparent as to be generally conceded, but the means by which this end shall be accomplished, and the sum of direct benefit which shall result to our citizens, present a controversy of the utmost importance. There should be no scheme accepted as satisfactory by which the burdens of the people are only apparently removed. Extravagant appropriations of public money with all their demoralization of consequences should not be tolerated, either as a means of relieving the treasury of its present surplus, or as furnishing a pretext for resisting a proper reduction in tariff rates Existing evils and injustices should be honestly recognized, boldly met and effectively remedied. There should be no cessation of the struggle until a plan is perfected, fair and conservative, toward existing industries, but which will reduce the cost to consumers of the necessaries of life, while it provides for our manufacturers the advantage of freer raw materials, and permits no injury to the interests of American labor. The cause for which the battle is waged is comprised within lines clearly and distinctly defined. It should never be comprised. It is the people's cause.

It cannot be denied that the selfish and private interests which are so persistently heard when efforts are made to deal in a just and comprehensive manner with our tariff laws are related to, and not responsible for the the sentiment largely prevailing among the people, that the general government is the fountain of individual and private aid, that it may be expected to relieve with paternal care the distress of citizens and communities, and that from the fullness of its treasury it should, upon the slightest possible pretext of promoting the general good, apply public funds to localities and individuals. Nor can it be denied that there is a growing assumption that, as against the government and in favor of private claims and interests, the usual rules and limitations of business principles and just dealing should be waived. These ideas have been unhappily much encouraged by legislation acquiescense. Relief from contracts made with the government is too easily accorded in favor of the citizen. The factum to support claims against the government by proof, is often supplied by no better consideration than the wealth of the government and the poverty of the claimant. Gratuities in the form of pensions are granted upon no other ground than the needy condition of the applicant, or for reasons less valid. And large sums are expended for public building and other improvements, upon representations scarcely claimed to be related to public needs and necessities. The extent to which the consideration of such matters subordinate and postpone action upon subjects of great public importance, but involving no special, private or partisan interest should arrest attention and lead to reformation.

Wonders of the Dead Sea.

One of the most interesting lakes or inland seas in the world is the Dead sea, which has no visible outlet. It is not mere fancy that has clothed the Dead sea in gloom. The desolate shores, with scarcely a green thing in sight, and scattered over with black stones and ragged driftwood, form a fitting frame for the dark, sluggish waters, covered with a perpetual mist, and breaking in slow, heavy, sepulchral toned waves upon the beach. It seem as if the smoke of the wicked cities was yet ascending up to heaven, and as if the moan of their fearful sorrow would never leave that God smitten valley. It is a strange thing to see those waves, not dancing along and sparkling in the sun, as other waves do, but moving with measured melancholy, and sending to the ear, as they break languidly upon the rock, only doleful sounds. This is, no doubt, owing to the great heaviness of the water, a fact well known and which we amply verified in the usual way, for, on attempting to swim, we went floating about like empty casks.

GIN NOTICE.

"Nobody Rides before de Capen."

As our facilities for ginning cotton fully justify us in doing so, we have concluded to reduce the price of ginning to 1-25th instead of 1-20th as formerly.

With ample water power, first-class machinery and convenient location, we are satisfied that we can make it to the mutual advantage of both the farmers and ourselves to make this reduction, trusting to the increased amount of work to cover the difference in price.

As always heretofore we return ALL the seed or buy them as parties may choose. Cotton put up in any style wanted and material furnished at the lowest cash price.

Now, gentlemen, we are trying to help you and you must help us to do so.

It casts us just as much to keep a set of hands around on half our capacity as to keep them steady at work, and we are willing that you should have the advantage of their labor at our expense.
